Abstract: The Milwaukee County Genealogical Society (MCGS), founded in 1935, aims to collect and preserve genealogical materials and to inform the public about genealogy. The MCGS Reporter is a quarterly newsletter published for the MCGS's members and genealogy societies and research libraries in the United States.

Scope and Content: This collection consists of several issues of the MCGS Reporter, with articles on genealogy, ancestry, local cemeteries, and local histories. Each issue also includes a letter from the board, a calendar of monthly events, and a list of genealogical events and conferences outside of the MCGS. The collection is organized chronologically.
